How can we help you?

HSM Keeps Your Inventory From Walking Off

Intrusion Alarm Monitoring

A security threat doesn't always come from the outside. Employee theft affects morale and your bottom line. Often, just the presence of a state-of-the-art security system is enough to deter theft—word gets around fast!

HSM Intrusion Alarm Systems offer flexible protection against internal and external theft. When your security staff can't be everywhere at once—your security system can.

Our HSM 24-hour UL Listed Monitoring Center helps to ensure an emergency receives fast attention. Fully staffed around-the-clock with trained security professionals; we protect what's important to you, twenty-four hours a day, every day of the year.

Area-controlled security enables your system to grow with you and adapt to your needs.

Simple keypad operation and clear readout ensures ease of use.

Point annunciators identify where the system is activated, to reduce loss and provide easy maintenance.

Equipment is Underwriters Laboratories (UL) listed, designed for commercial use and meets the highest industry standards.

HSM professionals will work with you on local code compliance requirements.

HSM Makes Sure Your Security System Always Has You Covered

Automatic Fire Alarm

One big security threat could actually be your fire alarm system. True. An alarm system that isn't functioning properly could be even worse than no alarm at all—by giving everyone a false sense of security.

HSM Fire Alarm Systems are an intelligent life safety system providing smoke and fire detection, sprinkler supervision and emergency communications. You don't have to worry about a system that won't function, because our system monitors itself.

System automatically signals our 24-hour UL Monitoring Center for diagnostic information and quick emergency assistance.

Intelligent, microprocessor-based devices, including multi-sensor detectors that provide early warning of smoke and fire conditions, and the virtual elimination of nuisance alarms.

An advanced distributed, digital audio communication system facilitates the safe, orderly evacuation of occupants.

HSM Can Catch a “Slip and Fall” You May Not See

Video Surveillance

Many security threats are camera shy. The presence of video cameras deters professionals who don't like this kind of exposure. Video surveillance can also serve as critical documentation for “slip and fall” cases or other on-premise accidents.

HSM Video Surveillance Systems are an effective method of watching buildings, protecting assets and providing personal safety. They provide a video or digital record of everything that happens—from a slip and fall, to a theft or robbery.

Videotape and digital recordings give you permanent records.

A full range of cameras, monitors and switchers can answer the needs for all types of indoor and outdoor applications.

System components are designed to work together so you have a smooth, affordable path for system growth.

Video components integrate with HSM Intrusion Alarm and/or HSM Access Control Systems for complete, cost-effective and reliable security control.

HSM Keeps You on Top of Comings and Goings

Access Control

HSM Access Control Systems regulate the movement of people into and within your building to help protect your employees, property and company information. You avoid key problems and have the ability to view where people are on your premises at any given moment—real time.

This cost-effective means of preventing unauthorized entry also provides a permanent record of anyone on your premises without inconveniencing your employees or disrupting your business.

Passcard control ensures a convenient, cost-effective means of preventing unauthorized entry.

Scalable stand-alones to your network-integrated solutions.

A personalized graphic of your facility is scanned into the system so you can view an actual overlay of exactly where your people are—real-time.

Quick and convenient digital photo imaging and badging capabilities make it simple to add or delete people, such as vendors, on a temporary basis.

Asset tracking provides an effective means to deter theft and improve management of valued assets.
